

Buddhism

lotus flowers

The Lotus flower is a very important symbol to Buddhists.

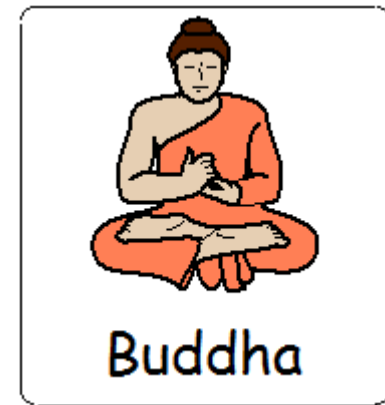

When Siddhartha Gotama (The Buddah) was born it is said
that he took seven footsteps straight away,
and on each step a lotus flower appeared.

Buddha

Buddha is often pictured seated on a lotus flower.

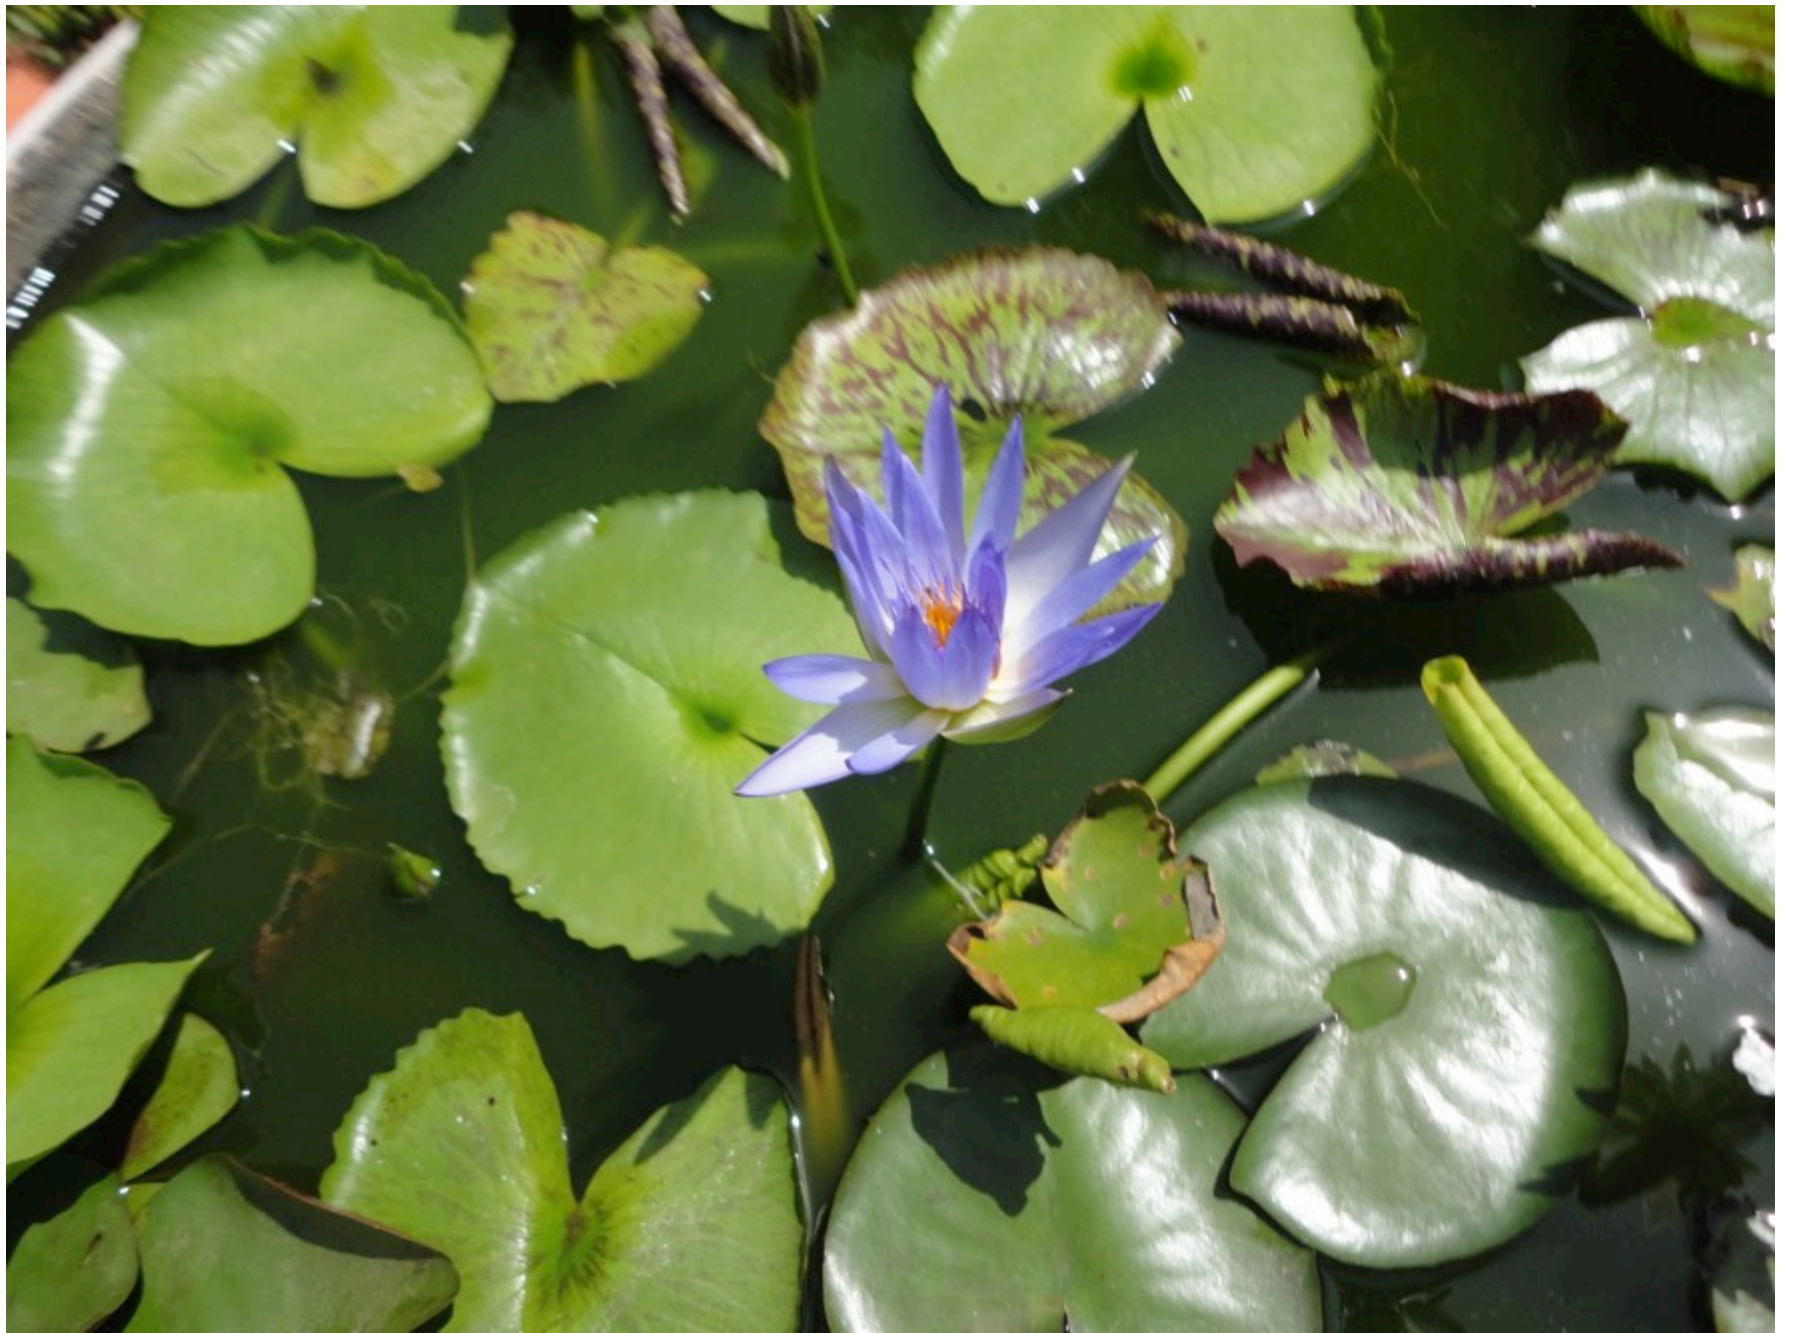

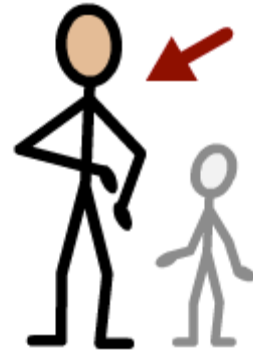

The lotus flower grows from the mud at the bottom of a pool.

It rises out of the water and opens to become a beautiful flower.

It shows how we can grow and change through the choices we make and the actions we take.

The Lotus flower is a symbol of hope.

How do you feel you have changed through this time of home learning?

What are your hopes for the future?